Title: Many Iona Alumni are Health Care Professionals, Essential Staff or First Responders Fighting the Good Fight against COVID-19

Date: April 10, 2020

Lisa Cordasco '84 nominates Louis Cordasco '85! "Our Family-Owned business holds the distinction as Westchester's 1st and oldest cleaning and restoration company. Founded in 1960, we have helped thousands of families and businesses recover from disasters. We are currently working with hospitals to do whatever is necessary and needed to support their effort to provide medical treatment during the COVID-19 pandemic. Louis Cordasco is our Director of Environmental Services. He is working at a NYC hospital to disinfect and clean, assemble hospital beds, and to renovate existing space to make room for more patient's care."

We are highlighting our alumni who work in healthcare, are first responders or essential staff – they have committed to serving their communities during this global pandemic, and any other emergency! Let's show them how much Gael Nation supports them.
